

Landmark Federal MCH Legislation

Introduction

The Delta Omega Public Health Classic entitled “Landmark Federal MCH Legislation” consists of three distinct pieces of legislation enacted between 1912 and 1935:

- P.L. 62-116 Act of April 9, 1912 (The Children’s Bureau Act)
- P.L. 67-97 Maternal and Infancy Act of 1921 (The Sheppard-Towner Act)
- P.L. 74-271 Social Security Act of 1935, Title V – Grants to States for Maternal and Child Welfare, Part 1 – Maternal and Child Health Services, Part 2 – Services for Crippled Children (Title V)

These laws represent the codified foundation of the Maternal and Child Health program in the United States. As a group, they demonstrate a growing assumption of responsibility by the federal government for the health and well being of mothers and children. They were selected as a Delta Omega Classic because they have made significant contributions to the health of mothers and children in the United States by:

- forging new public health policies,
- enabling programs and specific services that address the health needs of vulnerable children and their mothers, and
- establishing an infrastructure for MCH services at both federal and state levels.

The federal maternal and child health program has its roots in the Children’s Bureau. Established by P.L. 62-116 in 1912, creation of the Children’s Bureau was the federal government’s first recognition that it has a responsibility to promote the welfare of our nation’s children. The Children’s Bureau was a logical sequel to several child-oriented social and public health developments of the late 19th century: the establishment of milk stations, the growing concern with the spread of communicable disease after compulsory school attendance laws were passed, the movement to outlaw child labor, and the opening of Settlement Houses. Versions of this bill, supported by President Theodore Roosevelt, were introduced in both houses of Congress in 1906 and were resubmitted annually during the next 6 years. The proposed legislation met with fierce opposition both from states that felt that the federal government was usurping their responsibility for the welfare of children and from those who feared that it would give the federal government the right to enter and regulate the homes of private citizens. Support of the legislation came from organizations of parents, labor unions, health workers, social workers, and women’s organizations, and from the first White House Conference on the Care of Dependent Children in 1909. In the end, the legislation was passed and the Children’s Bureau was brought into existence because of public pressure to assure that the health of children would receive the same consideration as was given to the nurture of agricultural products. Placed in the Department of Commerce and Labor, the Bureau was charged with the responsibility “to investigate and report upon all matters pertaining to the welfare of children and child life among all classes of our people.” Thus began the remarkable history of federal support for children and families in the United States during the 20th century.

It wasn't long before the investigations conducted by the Children's Bureau illuminated major health problems and risks, especially among poor mothers and children. By 1920, these revelations sparked development of a preventive health bill sponsored by Senator Morris Sheppard of Texas and Representative Horace Towner of Iowa. The Maternal and Infancy Act of 1921, often called the Sheppard-Towner Act, was passed despite opposition similar to that faced by proponents of the Children's Bureau Act. To some, the potential intervention of government into the relationship between parents and children was unacceptable. Another position, championed by the American Medical Association (AMA), maintained that the act provided a legal precedent for a socialist turn to American government. The AMA was also deeply concerned with the potential for government to assume authority over the practice of medicine. Proponents of the bill argued that the situation of mothers and children in this country required action, noting that the bill dealt exclusively with preventive health services, like screening and education, rather than primary medical care. Support of many women's organizations, coupled with the realization that women had recently acquired the right to vote, assured passage of the bill.

The Sheppard-Towner Act was the first effort to establish an infrastructure for maternal and child health services at the state level. To obtain funding, states were required to establish agencies to address children's health and welfare, forerunners of state MCH programs that exist today. Each state also submitted a plan of action for its child hygiene or welfare agency to follow. There were few requirements for what states should do, but they were clearly prohibited from infringing upon the power of parents and guardians. Sheppard-Towner was a strong first step for the United States in assuring the health of its mothers and children. But the act was mired in too much controversy for long-term survival. Strong objections arose from outside the government. Organized medicine came to see preventive care as a potentially strong competitor to medical therapies, and the Catholic Church viewed the activities enabled under Sheppard-Towner as competing with charitable services that were traditionally under the purview of religious organizations. From within the government, the voice of dissent was also heard. The Public Health Service strongly objected to administration of this health program by the Children's Bureau, which was then in the Department of Labor. When the bill came up for reauthorization in 1929, it was defeated.

During the short life of the Sheppard-Towner Act, birth registrations increased throughout the country and many states established child hygiene bureaus at the state level and child health centers at the local level. Unfortunately, repeal of the act coincided with the start of the Great Depression and many states could not compensate for the loss of revenue from the Sheppard-Towner Act. As a result, MCH services at the state level started to wither. At the same time, unemployment rapidly gave way to poverty and its attendant health problems for large portions of the population who were previously able to provide for their own health maintenance. In the face of widespread economic instability, the priorities of those who opposed the Sheppard-Towner Act shifted. By the time an expanded version of Sheppard-Towner was written into Title V of the Social Security Act of 1935, it enjoyed a broad base of support. In addition to preventive health services and infrastructure development for mothers and children, Title V also included services for location and provision of medical, surgical, and other services to crippled children, services for protection of homebound, dependent, and neglected children, and vocational rehabilitation for the physically disabled.

Throughout the remainder of the twentieth century, the provisions of Title V were adjusted to meet emerging needs of the MCH population. Sometimes, they were supplemented by additional legislation, such as the Emergency Maternity and Infant Care Program of 1943 (P.L. 78-156). Often, the Social Security Act itself was amended. Key amendments were enacted in the 1960s with establishment of Maternity and Infant Care and Children and Youth Projects. These demonstration projects provided not only prevention services, but also primary care, thus expanding the role of the federal program yet again. Another significant change occurred in the 1980s when Title V was grouped with other programs into an MCH Block Grant, and states were given greater flexibility in the use of funds. Statutory modifications, changes in allocation formulas, and alterations in federal and state responsibilities have all been part of the long history of Title V. Yet the role of the federal government as protector and promoter of maternal and child health, while subject to periodic waves of controversy, continues with steadfast determination – thanks to the firm foundation established through the three related pieces of legislation incorporated into this Delta Omega Public Health Classic.

As time went on, administration of Title V shifted to the Department of Health and Human Services, Health Resources and Services Administration, Maternal and Child Health Bureau, where it was nurtured under the able guidance of Vince Hutchins, MD, MPH. Delta Omega had requested Dr. Hutchins's assistance in selecting what would be its first classic focused on the MCH field. At the time of his unexpected death earlier this year, Dr. Hutchins was working on this introduction. He had a unique and extensive understanding of the content of the legislation and its far-reaching effects. His draft material has been integrated into the foregoing paragraphs and we are pleased to dedicate Landmark Federal MCH Legislation to the memory of this man of extraordinary warmth and substance whose selfless and untiring devotion to mothers and children is legendary. Vince himself was a public health classic.

SEC. 11. Each State agency cooperating with the Children's Bureau under this Act shall make such reports concerning its operations and expenditures as shall be prescribed or requested by the bureau. The Children's Bureau may, with the approval of the board, and shall, upon request of a majority of the board, withhold any further certificate provided for in section 10 hereof whenever it shall be determined as to any State that the agency thereof has not properly expended the money paid to it or the moneys herein required to be appropriated by such State for the purposes and in accordance with the provisions of this Act. Such certificate may be withheld until such time or upon such conditions as the Children's Bureau, with the approval of the board, may determine; when so withheld the State agency may appeal to the President of the United States who may either affirm or reverse the action of the Bureau with such directions as he shall consider proper: Provided, That before any such certificate shall be withheld from any State, the chairman of the board shall give notice in writing to the authority designated to represent the State, stating specifically wherein said State has failed to comply with the provisions of this Act.

SEC. 12. No portion of any moneys apportioned under this Act for the benefit of the States shall be applied, directly or indirectly, to the purchase, erection, preservation, or repair of any building or buildings or equipment or for the purchase or rental of any buildings or lands, nor shall any such moneys or moneys required to be appropriated by any State for the purposes and in accordance with the provisions of this Act be useful for the payment of any maternity or infancy pension, stipend, or gratuity.

SEC. 13. The Children's Bureau shall perform the duties assigned to it by this Act under the supervision of the Secretary of Labor, and he shall include in his annual report to Congress a full account of the administration of this Act and expenditures of the moneys herein authorized.

SEC. 14. This Act shall be construed as intending to secure to the various States control of the administration of this Act within their respective States, subject only to the provisions and purposes of this Act.

“(d) The total amount determined under subsections (a) and (b) and the first sentence of subsection (c) for any fiscal year ending after June 30, 1968, shall be reduced by the amount by which the sum expended (as determined by the Secretary) from non-Federal sources for maternal and child health services and services for crippled children for such year is less than the sum expended from such sources for such services for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1968. In the case of any such reduction, the Secretary shall determine the portion thereof which shall be applied, and the manner of applying such reduction, to the amounts otherwise payable from allotments under section 503 or section 504.

“(e) Notwithstanding the preceding provisions of this section, no payment shall be made to any State thereunder from the allotments under section 503 or section 504 for any period after June 30, 1968, unless the State makes a satisfactory showing that it is extending the provision of services, including services for dental care for children and family planning for mothers, to which such State’s plan applies in the State with a view to making such services available by July 1, 1975, to children and mothers in all parts of the State.

“OPERATION OF STATE PLANS

“SEC. 507. If the Secretary, after reasonable notice and opportunity for hearing to the State agency administering or supervising the administration of the State plan approved under this title, finds—the Secretary shall notify such State agency that further payments will not be made to the State (or, in his discretion, that payments will be limited to categories under or parts of the State plan not affected by such failure), until the Secretary is satisfied that there will no longer be any such failure to comply. Until he is so satisfied he shall make no further payments to such State (or shall limit payments to categories under or parts of the State plan not affected by such failure).

“(2) that in the administration of the plan there is a failure to comply substantially with any such provision;

“SPECIAL PROJECT GRANTS FOR MATERNITY AND INFANT CARE

section 502, grants to the State health agency of any State and, with the consent of such agency, to the health agency of any political subdivision of the State, and to any other public or nonprofit private agency, institution, or organization, to pay not to exceed 75 percent of the cost (exclusive of general agency overhead) of any project for the provision of—

“(1) necessary health care to prospective mothers (including, after childbirth, health care to mothers and their infants) who have or are likely to have conditions associated with childbearing or are in circumstances which increase the hazards to the health of the mothers or their infants (including those which may cause physical or mental defects in the infants), or

“(2) necessary health care to infants during their first year of life who have any condition or are in circumstances which increase the hazards to their health, or

“(3) family planning services, but only if the State or local agency determines that the recipient will not otherwise receive such necessary health care or services because he is from a low-income family or for other reasons beyond his control. Acceptance of family planning services provided under a project under this section (and section 512) shall be voluntary on the part of the individual to whom such services are offered and shall not be a prerequisite to the eligibility for or the receipt of any service under such project.

No project shall be eligible for a grant under this section unless it provides that any treatment, correction of defects, or aftercare provided under the project is available only to children who would not otherwise receive it because they are from low-income families or for other reasons beyond their control, and unless it includes (subject to the limitation of the foregoing provisions of this sentence) at least such preventive services, treatment, correction of defects, and after care, for such age groups, as may be provided in regulations of the Secretary. Such projects may also include research looking toward the development of new methods of diagnosis or treatment, or demonstration of the utilization of dental personnel with various levels of training.

“(b) Such portion of the appropriations for grants under section 501 as the Secretary may determine, but not exceeding one-half of 1 percent thereof, shall be available for evaluation by the Secretary (directly or by grants or contracts) of the programs for which such appropriations are made and, in the case of allotments from any such appropriation, the amount available for allotments shall be reduced accordingly.

“ALLOTMENTS TO STATES AND FEDERAL SET-ASIDE

“SEC. 502. (a)(1) Of the amount appropriated under section 501(a), the Secretary shall retain an amount equal to 15 percent thereof in the case of fiscal year 1982, and an amount equal to not less than 10 nor more than 15, percent thereof in the case of each fiscal year thereafter, for the purpose of carrying out (through grants, contracts, or otherwise) special projects of regional and national significance, training, and research and for the funding of genetic disease testing, counseling, and information development and dissemination programs and of comprehensive hemophilia diagnostic and treatment centers. The authority of the Secretary to enter into any contracts under this title is effective for any fiscal year only to such extent or in such amounts as are provided in appropriations Acts.

“(2) For purposes of paragraph (1)—

“(3) No funds may be made available by the Secretary under this subsection unless an application therefor has been submitted to, and approved by, the Secretary. Such application shall be in such form, be submitted in such manner, and contain and be accompanied by such information as the Secretary may specify. No such application may be approved unless it contains assurances that the applicant will use the funds provided only for the purposes specified in the approved application and will establish such fiscal control and fund accounting procedures as may be necessary to assure proper disbursement and accounting of Federal funds paid to the applicant under this title.

“(b) From the remaining amounts appropriated under section 501(a) for any fiscal year, the Secretary shall allot to each State which has transmitted a description of intended activities and statement of assurances for the fiscal year under section 505, an amount determined as follows:

“(1) The Secretary shall determine, for each State—

“(A)(i) the amount provided or allotted by the Secretary to the State and to entities in the State under the provisions of the consolidated health programs (as defined in section 501(b)(1)), other than for any of the projects or programs described in subsection (a), from appropriations for fiscal year 1981,

“(ii) the proportion that such amount for that State bears to the total of such amounts for all the States, and

“(B)(i) the number of low income children in the State, and “(ii) the proportion that such number of children for that State bears to the total of such numbers of children for all the States.

“(2)(A) For each of fiscal years 1982 and 1983, each such State shall be allotted for that fiscal year an amount equal to the State’s proportion (determined under paragraph (1)(A)(ii)) of the amounts available for allotment to all the States under this subsection for that fiscal year.

“(B) For fiscal years beginning with fiscal year 1984, if the amount available for allotment under this subsection for that fiscal year—

“(i) does not exceed the amount available under this subsection for allotment for fiscal year 1983, each such State shall be allotted for that fiscal year an amount equal to the State’s proportion (determined under paragraph (1)(A)(ii)) of the amounts available for allotment to all the States under this subsection for that fiscal year, or

“(ii) exceeds the amounts available under this subsection for allotment for fiscal year 1983, each such State shall be allotted for that fiscal year an amount equal to the sum of—

“(I) the amount of the allotment to the State under this subsection in fiscal year 1983 (without regard to paragraph (3) of this subsection), and

“(II) the State’s proportion (determined under paragraph (1)(B)(ii)) of the amount by which the allotment available under this subsection for all the States for that fiscal year exceeds the amount that was available under this subsection for allotment for all the States for fiscal year 1983.

“(3)(A) To the extent that all the funds appropriated under this title for a fiscal year are not otherwise allotted to States either because all the States have not qualified for such allotments under section 505 for the fiscal year or because some States have indicated in their descriptions of activities under section 505 that they do not intend to use the full amount of such allotments, such excess shall be allotted among the remaining States in proportion to the amount otherwise allotted to such States for the fiscal year without regard to this subparagraph.

“(B) To the extent that all the funds appropriated under this title for a fiscal year are not otherwise allotted to States because some State allotments are offset under section 506(b)(2), such excess shall be allotted among the remaining States in proportion to the amount otherwise allotted to such States for the fiscal year without regard to this subparagraph.

“PAYMENTS TO STATES

“SEC. 503. (a) From the sums appropriated therefor and the allotments available under section 502(b), the Secretary shall make payments as provided by section 203 of the Intergovernmental Cooperation Act of 1968 (42 U.S.C. 4213) to each State provided such an allotment under section 502(b), for each quarter, of an amount equal to four-sevenths of the total of the sums expended by the State during such quarter in carrying out the provisions of this title.

“(b) Any amount payable to a State under this title from allotments for a fiscal year which remains unobligated at the end of such year shall remain available to such State for obligation during the next fiscal year. No payment may be made to a State under this title from allotments for a fiscal year for expenditures made after the following fiscal year.

“(c) The Secretary, at the request of a State, may reduce the amount of payments under subsection (a) by—

“(1) the fair market value of any supplies or equipment furnished the State, and

“(2) the amount of the pay, allowances, and travel expenses of any officer or employee of the Government when detailed to the State and the amount of any other costs incurred in connection with the detail of such officer or employee, when the furnishing of supplies or equipment or the detail of an officer or employee is for the convenience of and at the request of the State and for the purpose of conducting activities described in section 505 on a temporary basis. The amount by which any payment is so reduced shall be available for payment by the Secretary of the costs incurred in furnishing the supplies or equipment or in detailing the personnel, on which the reduction of the payment is based, and the amount shall be deemed to be part of the payment and shall be deemed to have been paid to the State.

“USE OF ALLOTMENT FUNDS

“SEC. 504. (a) Except as otherwise provided under this section, a State may use amounts paid to it under section 503 for the provision of health services and related activities (including planning, administration, education, and evaluation) consistent with its description of intended expenditures and statement of assurances transmitted under section 505.

“(b) Amounts described in subsection (a) may not be used for—

“(1) inpatient services, other than inpatient services provided to crippled children or to high-risk pregnant women and infants and such other inpatient services as the Secretary may approve;

“(2) cash payments to intended recipients of health services;

“(3) the purchase or improvement of land, the purchase, construction, or permanent improvement (other than minor remodeling) of any building or other facility, or the purchase of major medical equipment;

“(4) satisfying any requirement for the expenditure of nonfederal funds as a condition for the receipt of Federal funds, or

“(5) providing funds for research or training to any entity other than a public or nonprofit private entity.

The Secretary may waive the limitation contained in paragraph (3) upon the request of a State if the Secretary finds that there are extraordinary circumstances to justify the waiver and that granting the waiver will assist in carrying out this title.

“(c) A State may use a portion of the amounts described in subsection (a) for the purpose of purchasing technical assistance from public or private entities if the State determines that such assistance is required in developing, implementing, and administering programs funded under this title.

“SEC. 505. In order to be entitled to payments for allotments under section 502 for a fiscal year, a State must prepare and transmit to the Secretary—

“(1) a report describing the intended use of payments the State is to receive under this title for the fiscal year, including (A) a description of those populations, areas, and localities in the State which the State has identified as needing maternal and child health services, (B) a statement of goals and objectives for meeting those needs, (C) information on the types of services to be provided and the categories or characteristics of individuals to be served, and (D) data the State intends to collect respecting activities conducted with such payments: and

“(2) a statement of assurances that represents to the Secretary that—

“(A) the State will provide a fair method (as determined by the State) for allocating funds allotted to the State under this title among such individuals, areas, and localities identified under paragraph (1)(A) as needing maternal and child health services, and the State will identify and apply guidelines for the appropriate frequency and content of, and appropriate referral and followup with respect to, health care assessments and services financially assisted by the State under this title and methods for assuring quality assessments and services;

“(B) funds allotted to the State under this title will only be used, consistent with section 508, to carry out the purposes of this title or to continue activities previously conducted under the consolidated health programs (described in section 502(b)(1));

“(C) the State will use—

“(i) a substantial proportion of the sums expended by the State for carrying out this title for the provision of health services to mothers and children, with special consideration given (where appropriate) to the continuation of the funding of special projects in the State previously funded under this title (as in effect before the date of the enactment of the Maternal and Child Health Services Block Grant Act), and

“(ii) a reasonable proportion (based upon the State’s previous use of funds under this title) of such sums to carry out the purposes described in paragraphs (1) through (3) of section 501(a)

“(D) if the State imposes any charges for the provision of health services assisted by the State under this title, such charges (i) will be pursuant to a public schedule of charges, (ii) will not be imposed with respect to services provided to low income mothers or children, and (iii) will be adjusted to reflect the income, resources, and family size of the individual provided the services; and

“(E) the State agency (or agencies) administering the State’s program under this title will participate—

“(i) in the coordination of activities between such program and the early and periodic screening, diagnosis, and treatment program under title XIX, to ensure that such programs are carried out without duplication of effort,

“(ii) in the arrangement and carrying out of coordination agreements described in section 1902(a)(11) (relating to coordination of care and services available under this title and title XIX), and

“(iii) in the coordination of activities within the State with programs carried out under this title and related Federal grant programs (including supplemental food programs for mothers, infants, and children, related education programs, and other health, developmental disability, and family planning programs).

The description and statement shall be made public within the State in such manner as to facilitate comment from any person (including any Federal or other public agency) during development of the description and statement and after its transmittal. The description and statement shall be revised (consistent with this section) throughout the year as may be necessary to reflect substantial changes in any element of such description or statement and any revision shall be subject to the requirements of the preceding sentence.

“REPORTS AND AUDITS

“SEC. 506. (a)(1) Each State shall prepare and submit to the Secretary annual reports on its activities under this title. In order properly to evaluate and to compare the performance of different States assisted under this title and to assure the proper expenditure of funds under this title, such reports shall be in such form and contain such information as the Secretary determines (after consultation with the States and the Comptroller General) to be necessary (A) to secure an accurate description of those activities, (B) to secure a complete record of the purposes for which funds were spent, of the recipients of such funds, and of the progress made toward achieving the purposes of this title, and (C) to determine the extent to which funds were expended consistent with the State’s description and statement transmitted under section 505. Copies of the report shall be provided, upon request, to any interested public agency, and each such agency may provide its views on these reports to the Congress.

“(2) The Secretary shall annually report to the Congress on activities funded under section 502(a) and shall provide for transmittal of a copy of such report to each State.

“(b)(1) Each State shall, not less often than once every two years, audit its expenditures from amounts received under this title. Such State audits shall be conducted by an entity independent of the State agency administering a program funded under this title in accordance with the Comptroller General’s standards for auditing governmental organizations, programs, activities, and functions and generally accepted auditing standards. Within 30 days following the completion of each audit report, the State shall submit a copy of that audit report to the Secretary.

“(2) Each State shall repay to the United States amounts found by the Secretary, after notice and opportunity for a hearing to the State, not to have been expended in accordance with this title and, if such repayment is not made, the Secretary may offset such amounts against the amount of any allotment to which the State is or may become entitled under this title or may otherwise recover such amounts.

“(3) The Secretary may, after notice and opportunity for a hearing, withhold payment of funds to any State which is not using its allotment under this title in accordance with this title. The Secretary may withhold such funds until the Secretary finds that the reason for the withholding has been removed and there is reasonable assurance that it will not recur.

“(c) The State shall make copies of the reports and audits required by this section available for public inspection within the State.

“(d)(1) For the purpose of evaluating and reviewing the block grant established under this title, the Secretary and the Comptroller General shall have access to any books, accounts, records, correspondence, or other documents that are related to such block grant, and that are in the possession, custody, or control of States, political subdivisions thereof, or any of their grantees.

“(2) In conjunction with an evaluation or review under paragraph (1), no State or political subdivision thereof (or grantee of either) shall be required to create or prepare new records to comply with paragraph (1).

“(3) For other provisions relating to deposit, accounting, reports and auditing with respect to Federal grants to States, see section 202 of the Intergovernmental Cooperation Act of 1968 (42 U.S.C. 4212).

“(2) having knowledge of the occurrence of any event affecting his initial or continued right to any such payment conceals or fails to disclose such event with an intent fraudulently to secure such payment either in a greater amount than is due or when no such payment is authorized,

“(b) For civil monetary penalties for certain submissions of false claims, see section 1128A of this Act.

“(2) No person shall on the ground of sex or religion be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under, any program or activity funded in whole or in part with funds made available under this title.

“(b) Whenever the Secretary finds that a State, or an entity that has received a payment from an allotment to a State under section 502(b), has failed to comply with a provision of law referred to in subsection (a)(1), with subsection (a)(2), or with an applicable regulation (including one prescribed to carry out subsection (a)(2)), he shall notify the chief executive officer of the State and shall request him to secure compliance. If within a reasonable period of time, not to exceed sixty days, the chief executive officer fails or refuses to secure compliance, the Secretary may—
